

PRESS RELEASE

(for immediate release)

Shanghai, September 17, 2007

China International Trade Fair for Geodesy, Geo-Information and Land Management Surveying Technology and Equipment & Conference (GOE Expo China 2008) will be held at Shanghai Mart Expo Center, Shanghai China on December 2-4, 2008.

GEO Expo.China'2008 will showcase the cutting-edge technologies and equipment of geodesy, cartography and related industries for both the international and local companies who intend to expand the business scope and to look for partners with the capability of conducting surveys on the national resources in China. This Expo intends to create a platform for international exchanges of the technologies and products suitable for the land resources.

We welcome all related vendors in the field of geodesy & land management surveying, equipment, materials, media and associations to join in this grand event for the global gathering in Shanghai. We are expecting to have more attentions and participations from all of the industrial players to conduct technical exchanges, businesses and put on display the new products. GEO Expo.China'2008 is to be a matter of honor for every company involved in this sector. This is the fastest way for "delivering them" from a manufacturer to a consumer.

Welcome to join the first and premiere Expo for GEO industry in China and in Asia!
